WILL OF DR. ROGERS. All of His Estate Bequeathed to His

The will of Dr. F. J. Regers of Stan-ford has been admitted to probate by Judge Charles D. Lockwood. It was drawn December 19, 1993, and be-queaths all the estate to the testator's wife, Mrs. Margaret G. Rogers. Ac-cording to the petition, there is real estate in Darien of an estimated value of $9,000, and personal property worth of $9,000, and personal property worth $1,500. It is understood that Dr. Rog-ers gave most of his estate to Mrs Rogers some time before his death.

A magnificent pair of elk's antiers stolen recently from the George T. Bradley residence at Pomfret have been located at the saloon of Fred Wood on Elm street. The antiers are of the finest type obtainable and their alue is fixed at not less than five undred dollars. Mr. Wood purchased the antiers about ten days ago from a transient person who represented himself as working at Pomfret. He bargained with Wood a month ago for the Tuesday. urchase of the horns and said that e had received them as a gift when hey were about to be thrown away as worthless. Wood paid seven dollars for the head and its extraordinary spread of antiers and went to Pomfret in broad daylight with a team and brought them to Putnam. The head has been pulled from the base on which it was mounted, but otherwise it is in excellent condition. excellent condition.

It has developed that the fellow who sold Wood the head never worked at Pomfret and undoubtedly stole the valuable ornament when the place was last entered.
